

Top Questions & Answers from Birth Mothers

1 Am I monster that I don't want this baby? I am not attached!

No! You are not a monster. This is a common feeling of many women that pursue an adoption plan.

2 What kind of families even adopt a baby?

We work with all kinds of families. From traditional couples, single mom and single dads, same sex couples, and trans couples etc. These are families that either battle infertility or just have a calling to adopt a child.

3 Can you help me with a place to live to get on my feet?

We provide emergency housing and will help you with resources to try and find stable long term housing.

4 If I have private insurance do you pay the annual deductible?

Adoption plans cover all medical expenses for the expecting mother.

5 Will someone want my baby if I have a mental illness?

Yes! Mental illness is disclosed and families want children with all kinds of genetic backgrounds.

6 The birth father is the same father of my other kids but he isn't supportive, can I still do the adoption?

There would be a birth father risk on the plan, which is hard for adoptive parents to get on board with. Is the birth father open to having an adoption counselor talk and educate him on adoption?

Call or Text: 888-307-3340

www.adoptiontexas.org | www.adoptionchoicesoftexas.com

Top Questions & Answers from Birth Mothers

7 Do grandparents have a say if I place my child?

In Texas, grandparents cannot stop an adoption plan from either birth parent consenting.

8 I don't have an ID can I still do an adoption plan?

Yes! We will work with you to obtain identification.

9 I have not applied for Medicaid. Can I still do the adoption?

Yes. We can help you apply and Medicaid approved will back pay for 90 days, even if you are delivering now you still can make an adoption plan.

10 Do I have to take the baby home with me?

No. Most of the time the adoptive family takes the baby directly home with them from the hospital.

11 Will CPS be involved if I am smoking marijuana?

Likely yes. This is dependent of which county you are in and which hospital. But most hospitals report any and all drug use, including marijuana at this time.

Call or Text: 888-307-3340

www.adoptiontexas.org | www.adoptionchoicesoftexas.com